UNIVERSITY OF RIJEKA announces the

CALL for enrolment
in the 1st year of the study programmes taught in English for the 2026/2027 academic year at the University of Rijeka and its faculties

GENERAL PART OF THE CALL

This call aims to inform prospective degree seeking students about the University of Rijeka's study programmes taught in English. It outlines the entry requirements, conditions and deadlines for application and enrolment in the 1st year of undergraduate, integrated (undergraduate and graduate), and graduate programmes for the 2026/2027 academic year.

By applying to this call, applicants acknowledge that the University of Rijeka and its faculties, as data controllers, will process their personal data solely for the purpose of organizing the selection process (including identification, competition registration, data verification, decision-making, re-registration, and publication of results). Applicants are also informed that their personal data will not be processed for any purpose other than those stated above and in compliance with relevant European and national data protection laws.

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS AND SELECTION

Study programmes taught in English are open to Croatian and international candidates.

UNDERGRADUATE AND INTEGRATED (UNDEGRADUATE AND GRADUATE) PROGRAMMES

Entry requirement: at least four-year high school education or its equivalent.

Applicants who completed their high school education in Croatia are required to take the state graduation exam. Applicants who completed their high school education abroad are generally not required to take it. However, some faculties may set minimum score requirements, including state graduation exam results, for certain programmes. In such cases, applicants can either take the required state graduation exams (in Croatian) or choose to be assessed based on their high school grades, special achievements, and any additional tests. Final exam results, if part of a high school education abroad, are considered equivalent to the Croatian state graduation exam.

Some degree programmes may have additional requirements, such as specific high school subjects, additional assessments, or demonstration of psychophysiological abilities relevant to the field of study. Those, as well as English language requirements, are outlined in the SPECIFIC PART of this Call and/or on the faculty websites.

GRADUATE PROGRAMMES

Entry requirement: a degree at the undergraduate or integrated level or higher. In some cases, applicants with a vocational undergraduate degree may enrol after passing additional exams set by the faculty.

Some faculties may have specific admission requirements for certain graduate programmes, due to their specialized nature. These requirements may include completing a relevant undergraduate degree, a suitable lifelong learning programme, a specific number of ECTS credits, or other academic qualifications. Additionally, some faculties may require assessments of knowledge, skills, and competencies to ensure candidates are adequately prepared for successful study.

The specific enrolment and English language requirements for each graduate programme are outlined in the SPECIFIC PART of this Call and/or on the faculty websites.

REGISTRATION AND APPLICATION

Applicants for enrolment to studies offered by the University of Rijeka must submit their applications through the relevant national application system, applicable to both Croatian and international applicants.

In certain cases, the application process is conducted at the faculty level in parallel with the national system, with distinct deadlines for submission, to ensure the timely determination of a candidate's eligibility for admission to the selected study programme.

Applicants are therefore strongly advised to carefully review the guidelines for each programme outlined in the SPECIFIC PART of this Call.

Additionally, some faculties provide support and guidance for registration in the national application systems.

Details about the application and registration procedures to the national application systems is described below and in the SPECIFIC PART of the Call and/or faculty's websites.

UNDERGRADUATE AND INTEGRATED (UNDEGRADUATE AND GRADUATE) PROGRAMMES

For undergraduate and integrated study programmes, applicants must apply through the National Information System for Application to Higher Education Institutions (NISaHEI/NISpVU) at www.postani-student.hr. This system enables applicants to register for the state graduation exam in Croatia and apply for their preferred programmes. Registration is carried out at the following link.

After completing the registration, applicants will receive a username, password, PIN, and TAN via SMS. These credentials are required to access the "Postani student" system, where they can select the faculty and the study programme they wish to enrol in under Moj odabir (My choice).

Applicants may apply to up to 10 study programmes. It is essential to list the preferred study programme as the top priority. Priority choices can be modified until the deadline indicated in the Calendar section at <https://www.studij.hr/kalendar>. Please note that there are separate calendars: one for undergraduate and integrated studies, and another for graduate studies.

The system enables applicants for undergraduate and integrated studies to submit the Request of a foreign high school educational qualification (the final day for submitting the request is 1 July 2026). The request will appear in the applicants' personal profile. The decision on the recognition of a foreign secondary education qualification will be delivered directly by the Agency for Science and Higher Education to the higher education institution for the purpose of enrolment.

The final deadline for registering for study programmes through the national application system is 15 July 2026 at 1:59 p.m.

Comprehensive information on registration, application procedures, and deadlines is available at <https://www.studij.hr/all-about-applications>.

GRADUATE PROGRAMMES

Faculties offering graduate study programmes manage their own application processes independently of the national system. We strongly recommend carefully reviewing the instructions and deadlines for the desired programme in the SPECIFIC PART of this Call.

PROCEDURE FOR THE RECOGNITION OF FOREIGN HIGHER EDUCATION QUALIFICATIONS

Recognition of prior educational qualifications for candidates who completed their high school education or undergraduate studies abroad, for the purpose of continuing education at Croatian higher education institutions, is an integral part of the enrolment procedure.

UNDERGRADUATE AND INTEGRATED (UNDEGRADUATE AND GRADUATE) PROGRAMMES

Applicants to undergraduate and integrated study programmes who hold a foreign secondary school qualification submit a request for recognition of their educational qualification along with the necessary documents for the application procedure to the Agency for Science and Higher Education. Detailed instructions, request forms and a list of supporting documents are available at <https://www.studij.hr/recognition>.

To initiate the recognition process, candidates must submit a Request for Recognition. This request can be submitted as soon as the candidate has registered on the website www.postani-student.hr.

Candidates are advised to carefully follow the application steps outlined in the SPECIFIC PART of this Call to ensure timely submission of the Request for Recognition.

GRADUATE PROGRAMMES

Prospective students who completed their undergraduate studies abroad must undergo a recognition process for their foreign higher education qualifications.

The procedure is managed by the Academic Recognition Qualifications Office of the University of Rijeka to which candidates must submit the Request for Recognition along with the required documents. The Request is submitted using the prescribed form available HERE (also found under the "Documents" section at <https://uniri.hr/en/studies/academic-recognition-of-foreign-higher-education-qualifications-office/>).

The completed application form with all necessary documentation in PDF format should be sent by e-mail to: recognition@uniri.hr.

Note: The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences (for the Master's in Cognitive Sciences - Cognition and the Mind) will collect the required documentation from candidates as part of their application and selection procedures. They will then submit the Request for Recognition to the Academic Recognition Qualifications Office on behalf of the candidates.

The processing fee for academic recognition of foreign higher education qualifications is €60. Payment method is outlined HERE.

For inquiries, candidates can contact the office at recognition@uniri.hr.

ENROLMENT

Enrolment in study programmes is managed by the respective faculties. Accepted candidates will enrol according to the procedures outlined in the SPECIFIC PART of this Call.

Important note: Accepted international candidates, whether through faculty admission or assigned an enrolment number in the national system (if applicable), must apply for a Croatian Personal Identification Number (PIN/OIB): link. Some faculties provide assistance in obtaining the PIN.

UNDERGRADUATE AND INTEGRATED (UNDEGRADUATE AND GRADUATE) PROGRAMMES

While some faculties select candidates through internal application processes, all candidates for enrolment to undergraduate and integrated studies will also be ranked in the national application system, granting them the right to enrol in the programme. Each candidate will appear on the ranking list in the national application system only for the programme at the top of their priority list and will be assigned an enrolment number. The candidate will be removed from the ranking lists of any other programmes.

Once assigned an enrolment number for a specific programme, candidates are required to enrol in that programme. Failure to do so may result in the higher education institution charging opportunity costs for the unfilled study place, potentially amounting to two-thirds of the year's tuition fee. To avoid such charges, candidates must withdraw from any study programmes in the national application system they no longer intend to pursue, before the final rankings are published.

Additionally, candidates should be aware that study programmes regulate their own payment policies, including amounts, deadlines, and non-refundable fees. Candidates are strongly advised to carefully review these regulations in the SPECIFIC PART of this Call to prevent any confusion or issues.

The ranking list in the national application system for undergraduate and integrated programmes will be published at <https://www.postani-student.hr/Ucenici/Prijava.aspx>.

Candidates ranked within the quota who receive an enrolment number on the final ranking list are eligible to enrol in their respective study programmes. Once the final ranking list is published, no further changes are possible. Therefore, candidates must regularly monitor their scores and notifications on www.postani-student.hr.

Details regarding the enrolment process and deadlines are provided in the SPECIFIC PART of this Call. If candidates are selected through the internal application processes of the respective faculties, any relevant deadlines and responsibilities related to the centralised platform will be communicated by the faculty.

GRADUATE PROGRAMMES

The enrolment process and deadlines for graduate study programmes are provided in the SPECIFIC PART of this Call.

TUTION FEE AND OTHER COSTS

The tuition fee for each specific programme is detailed in the SPECIFIC PART of the Call. Candidates are responsible for covering all additional costs associated with the application and enrolment process for a particular degree programme. These may include fees for additional examinations, student insurance, and other related expenses. Payments must be made following the procedures and within the deadlines outlined in the SPECIFIC PART of the Call.

All students are required to pay an enrolment fee, which will be finalized prior to enrolment and is estimated to be approximately 60 euros.

SPECIFIC PART OF THE CALL

The SPECIFIC PART of this Call provides detailed information on the conditions, deadlines for pre-application and application, the enrolment process, required documents for enrolment, tuition fees (including payment schedules), additional costs, entrance exams (including their organization and deadlines), and other important details related to specific study programmes.

Candidates are strongly encouraged to regularly check the websites of the faculties they wish to enrol in, as these sites provide more detailed information on enrolment requirements.

FACULTY OF HUMANITIES AND SOCIAL SCIENCES

www.ffri.uniri.hr

University graduate study COGNITIVE SCIENCES – COGNITION AND THE MINDStudy programme

The Division of Cognitive Sciences at the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences, University of Rijeka is inviting applications to the graduate/Masters University study programme Cognitive Sciences: Cognition and the Mind. This is an interdisciplinary, research-focused 2-year MSc programme in cognitive sciences with a unique integration of psychology and philosophy, complemented by other disciplines within cognitive sciences. The programme is conducted entirely in English.

Admission will be for the winter semester, which starts in October 2026. The annual tuition fee for this programme is €1200 (both for EU and non-EU citizens). Three quarters of the first-year tuition fee, €900 (non-refundable) needs to be paid upon receipt of a Conditional Offer of Admission letter to secure a place on the programme. The full annual tuition fee needs to be paid and received by the Finance Office of the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences by the date of submitting documentation for enrolment into the programme. Scholarships for this programme are available as advertised on our official website <https://cogsci.uniri.hr/>.

Applicants with an undergraduate University degree (or another degree that qualifies you to apply for a graduate programme – this can be an integrated University degree, or another University graduate degree) in cognitive sciences or one of the cognitive science disciplines, including psychology, philosophy, linguistics, informatics, biology, biomedicine, and anthropology, are eligible to apply. Applicants with a University degree in another discipline are also eligible to apply and are encouraged to contact the Selection Committee at cogsci@uniri.hr or the Head of Studies at lj.ostojic@uniri.hr early to discuss their eligibility. The Selection Committee will consider eligibility of candidates who have a degree in another discipline on an individual basis.

Applicants who are in the last year of their undergraduate programme can apply. If successful, in the Conditional Offer of Admission, one of the conditions will be that they need proof of a completed undergraduate degree as well as proof of academic recognition of their undergraduate degree latest by the time of submitting documents for enrolment in the Masters programme.

Applications

The Standard application deadline is Friday, 6 March 2026. We strongly encourage all candidates who are non-EU citizens and need an entry visa into Croatia to apply by this deadline [note that non-EU citizens who already have residency in another EU country do not require an entry visa for Croatia]. The process of obtaining a visa can take a long time and it is important that you start the process early.

Students wishing to be considered for one of our scholarships must apply by this deadline. For all scholarship options, please visit our official webpage at <https://cogsci.uniri.hr/fees-and-funding> which is updated regularly.

If places remain, there will be a Late application deadline on Friday, 15 May 2026, and an Exceptional application deadline on Friday, 21 August 2026, may be opened if places remain. Applicants applying at the Exceptional Deadline are advised to complete the academic recognition process before applying OR to submit all documentation needed for the academic recognition, as detailed in the Application Form at the time of applying to the study programme.

Applications, including all requested documents, must be submitted via email to cogsci@uniri.hr before midnight on the day of the given deadline. Only applications submitted in this way will be considered. In the subject line, please write 'Application for the Masters in Cognitive Sciences' and for the body of the email, please insert the following text 'Please find attached my application to the Masters in Cognitive Sciences: Cognition and the Mind for the academic year 2026/2027.' and add your name and contact details. Please upload all documents as detailed below as attachments. Incomplete or late applications will not be considered. If you have any questions, please contact us before the sending your application/before the application deadline. We will confirm receipt of your application within 24 hours.

Documents needed for the application are as follows:

1. The filled-out Application Form (available online on <https://cogsci.uniri.hr/admissions>),
2. The filled-out Structured Motivational Letter (available online on <https://cogsci.uniri.hr/admissions>),
3. A copy of the applicant's CV in English,
4. Evidence of your undergraduate degree or any other degree that qualifies you to apply to graduate study, as detailed in the Application Form. Please read the instructions regarding this documentation carefully, and in case of any uncertainty, please reach out to us for help.

A detailed explanation of the application requirements and procedures are posted on the website <https://cogsci.uniri.hr/admissions> and are constituent parts of this call for applications.

Applicants from any country and of any citizenship may apply.

The selection process has two stages. In the first stage, we will shortlist candidates based on their academic performance and motivational letter and will contact all applicants within two weeks after the application deadline. Shortlisted candidates will be invited to a short interview. In the second stage, shortlisted candidates will meet with three of our teaching staff online for a short interview through a digital platform. The aim of the interview is to assess proficiency of English and fit for the programme. The interview will involve three questions. The first question will relate to the applicant's motivation for the programme, the second question will be based around the applicant's research proposal that they will have submitted as part of the Structured Motivation Letter, and the third question will be a short question about research methods in cognitive sciences. Candidates may find it useful to look through the suggested literature on <https://cogsci.uniri.hr/admissions> as preparation for the interview.

Please note that we do not require any official English proficiency exams. There are no costs for the application and selection process to this programme!

The final decision will be made within 14 days after the first interview dates and will be published on the official Faculty webpage. We will also email all candidates. The appeal period is 24 hours after the results are announced.

We are looking to admit up to 14 students in the academic year 2026/2027.

Academic Recognition for Foreign Degrees

Academic recognition of Higher Education degrees for further study at the University of Rijeka are conducted by the Academic Recognition Qualifications Office of the University of Rijeka. Please see the Application Form and the admission section of our website at <https://cogsci.uniri.hr/admissions/> for more information. Note that we provide support throughout the whole process of academic recognition (for help, email us at cogsci@uniri.hr or email the Head of Studies at lj.ostojic@uniri.hr).

Enrolment schedule

UNIVERSITY OF RIJEKA

www.uniri.hr

YUFE's Joint Bachelor URBAN SUSTAINABILITY STUDIES

YUFE's Joint Bachelor in Urban Sustainability Studies, developed by the European university alliance YUFE (Young Universities for the Future of Europe), equips students with interdisciplinary expertise in urban sustainability and fosters the ability to address local, regional, and global challenges through diverse methodological and cultural perspectives. The programme is strongly mobility-oriented: students follow an open and flexible curriculum delivered across several partner universities and complete at least two mandatory mobility periods, which are key to developing intercultural competencies and a comparative understanding of urban sustainability issues.

Graduates will receive a joint degree issued by seven European universities, positioning them as highly competitive candidates for professional careers and advanced academic opportunities.

This degree programme offers an open curriculum with an innovative approach to studying at selected partner universities and includes at least two mobility periods (semesters).

When applying for YUFE's Joint Bachelor in Urban Sustainability Studies, applicants begin by choosing one of the seven partner universities as their starting university, where they will spend most of their study period.

In this call, the term "applicant" refers to any person who submits an application and takes part in the admission process up to and including the selection phase. The term "candidate" is used only after an applicant has been selected for admission to the programme.

Key information

To be considered for admission, applicants must meet the following eligibility requirements:

- A secondary education degree
- A minimum B2 level of English

The maximum number of students admitted to the programme at the University of Rijeka (UNIRI) for the 2026/2027 academic year is 20.

The annual tuition fee for YUFE's Joint Bachelor at UNIRI is:

- €2500 for EEA applicants, citizens of Ukraine granted temporary protection in the Republic of Croatia, and applicants from neighbouring countries in the Stabilization and Association Process (SAP): Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Montenegro, North Macedonia, Serbia, and Kosovo.
- €5000 for non-EEA applicants.

The enrolment fee for the 2026/2027 academic year will be set by UNIRI and is expected to be approximately €60. Both the tuition fee and the enrolment fee must be paid annually for the duration of the programme.

Step 1: Application in the Virtual Campus

Applications for YUFE's Joint Bachelor must be submitted via the YUFE Virtual Campus: YUFE Virtual Campus.

Applicants must upload required documents and complete a short motivation questionnaire.

1.1. Required Documents

Secondary education degree: A four-year high school diploma or equivalent, meeting university admission criteria in the country of graduation.

For applicants completing secondary education in 2026, a confirmation of study status should be provided.

Proof of English language proficiency:

Level B2 or higher on the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR), as stated in official educational records, or

A valid language certificate (issued within the past two years) with the following minimum scores:

- TOEFL iBT (test centre only): 80
- IELTS Academic: 6.5 overall, 6.0 per component
- ITACE: B2
- Cambridge English: B2 First (176 or above)
- PTE Academic: 59

Alternative qualifications and equivalent scores may be considered.

Exemptions apply to those who:

- Hold a diploma from an English-taught programme in Australia, Canada (English-speaking), Ireland, New Zealand, the UK, or the US.
- Completed an English-taught programme elsewhere, with the language of instruction stated in official documents (English language proficiency of such applicants might be assessed through an interview).

Passport or Identity Card

A scanned copy of the relevant passport pages or an identity card (for EU citizens) is required.

1.2. Motivation Questionnaire

Applicants must complete a motivation questionnaire in the Virtual Campus, explaining their interest in the YUFE's Joint Bachelor programme. Responses help assess suitability for this flexible, multi-university study format and may be used as a selection criterion for specific starting universities if necessary.

The questionnaire covers topics such as adaptability to new cultures, collaborative problem-solving experience, goals for the programme, and academic and career aspirations. Each response should not exceed 700 characters.

1.3. Application deadlines

All required documents must be uploaded to the Virtual Campus by the respective deadlines:

- non-EEA applicants: 1 May 2026 (Non-EU/EEA applicants are kindly advised to apply by 1 May due to the expected visa processing time.)
- EEA applicants with a non-EEA degree: 1 June 2026
- EEA applicants with an EEA degree:
 - For enrolment in the summer term: 15 June 2026
 - For enrolment in the autumn term: 26 August 2026 (if there are seats still available)

Step 2: Eligibility assessment

After the application is submitted, eligibility for the programme will be assessed. This includes verifying whether the application form is complete, all required documents have been provided, and the admission eligibility requirements are met.

If the eligibility requirements are fulfilled, applicants will receive an eligibility notice via the YUFE Virtual Campus within 7 days following the document submission.

Receiving an eligibility notice does not indicate acceptance into the programme but confirms that the eligibility requirements have been met, allowing the admission process to proceed to the next steps, which may include selection.

Step 3: Recognition of Foreign High School Qualifications (if applicable)

For applicants who completed secondary education abroad, diploma recognition in Croatia is required. The Croatian Agency for Science and Higher Education oversees this process, and UNIRI will submit the request on behalf of candidates.

To proceed, additional forms and validated copies of required documents (high school report cards, graduation certificate/diploma, and proof of citizenship) must be sent by priority mail by, as soon as possible, after receiving eligibility notice.

All documents must be notarized, and non-EU applicants must provide certified translations into Croatian or English. Detailed instructions will be included in the admission notification.

Documents written in Latin script (e.g., certificates or transcripts) from applicants from Bosnia and Herzegovina, Montenegro, and Serbia do not require translation. However, for these documents to be accepted, they must be notarized by a public notary.

Important for non-EEA applicants: Due to the late enrolment period and the proximity of the semester start, participation in the second-round selection is not available for non-EEA applicants.

Step 4: Selection and admission

If the number of applicants exceeds the available capacity, a selection process will be conducted based on the evaluation of motivation questionnaire responses, following predefined guidelines to ensure fairness and transparency.

The selection process will take place within up to three admission rounds:

1. First round (May) - This admission round is exclusively intended for non-EEA applicants, due to the earlier deadlines required for visa processing, recognition procedures, and timely completion of enrolment. Maximum ten applicants will be selected in this round.
2. Second round (June) - Open to all applicants.
3. Third round (August, optional) - Organised only if seats are still available.

Eligible applicants who are not selected within the quota will be referred to another YUFE university listed as their second preferred starting university in the Virtual Campus.

Selected candidates will receive an admission notification via email.

Step 5: Enrolment

At the conclusion of the admission process, UNIRI will notify applicants via email regarding the outcome. The candidate must confirm their readiness to enrol at the University of Rijeka to begin the official enrolment process.

Enrolment will take place online on the following dates:

- First-round enrolment: 16-17 July 2026
- Second-round enrolment: 17-18 September 2026

The full call for applications with detailed information on registration, admission and enrolment as well as on the content and structure of the programme is published at <https://uniri.hr/en/yufe/yufes-joint-bachelor-in-urban-sustainability-studies/>.
